

ClimateIntel Briefings

Implications of Regulating CO₂ as an NSR Pollutant

The White House is reviewing over an EPA finding under the Clean Air Act that greenhouse gas emissions "endanger" health and the environment and, therefore, may subject certain stationary sources, such as coal-fired power plants, to the requirement for Best Available Control Technology (BACT) for CO₂ emissions. Read more...

Safeguarding the Competitiveness of U.S. Manufacturers in a U.S. Cap-and-Trade System

U.S. lawmakers face the challenge of how to ensure that a national greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions reduction program does not undermine the competitiveness of domestic manufacturing industries. Read more...

Biofuels and Indirect Land Use Change

The logic for considering indirect land use is that if increased production of a given biofuel in the United States causes a shift in land use, the immediate and future GHG emissions resulting from that land use change should be included in the life-cycle GHG emissions for that biofuel. Read more...

Forward to a friend

For more information

Contact us

Subscribe to this newsletter

Speaking Engagements

On April 7, Rick Gittleman and Paul Gutermann will speak at Carbon TradeEx America 2009 in Washington, D.C. on the idea of developing a Renewable Energy Private Investment Corporation \(REPIC\). Ken Markowitz will also speak that day on "Breaking Boundaries: Perspectives on Regional Carbon Markets."

On April 8, Paul Gutermann will speak on "Cracking the Code: Breaking Down Barriers to Investment in the U.S. Low-Carbon Economy" at Carbon TradeEx America 2009.

This document is distributed for informational use only; it does not constitute legal advice and should not be used as such.

© 2009 Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP
Robert S. Strauss Building
1333 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W.
Washington, DC 20036

IRS Circular 230 Notice Requirement: This communication is not given in the form of a covered opinion, within the meaning of Circular 230 issued by the United States Secretary of the Treasury. Thus, we are required to inform you that you cannot rely upon any tax advice contained in this communication for the purpose of avoiding United States federal tax penalties. In addition, any tax advice contained in this communication may not be used to promote, market or recommend a transaction to another party.

To opt out of future communications, please click here.